Climbing the steps of Saxebock

Picnicking with the family

We were ready, we were there; we watched you moving in and we saw you trying not to cry when you finally realized you were here; we got the most enjoyment out of the green army jacket at your first convocation; and, could it be... you tanning in the dark at the other party, the smell of bourbon in your

"non-alcoholic" drink?; we heard your first exclamation of "I'll see you back at the House"; we couldn't even believe that it was finally time to discuss ring orders (and we, too, wondered what to do about a date for Ring Dance. Maybe the "Beehive?" ...); did you see us at the MaWaCo happy hour?; we, like you, were on pins and needles that first weekend of 24-hour visitation; just like you we counted all the new freshman guys and wondered why our class didn't have a ratio like that; we were at the opening of the doors of a newly renovated Chandler; and we helped welcome a new President of MWC; we were all in line for hours

some nights trying to get in the Pub; we almost screamed when you set off your brand new smoke detectors, because we, too, had to run outside for no good reason; did we hear any freshmen serenading this year?; we tried to call you at your new room in Mercer, but found out that you had no phones, yet . . . ; we were not too happy, either, to find out that one of our upper class courses had mysteriously turned to a "writing intensive"; we laugh at you every time you walk down to the Battlefield to get your car, just to drive to Park and Shop; we cried with you when he said good-bye and celebrated with you when you found someone new;

your elf costume with the weird feet and your college pennant suits really cracked us up at Halloweens (do you remember that night?); we watched you grow, because we were with you while you made your transition from tradition.

We had originally planned to dedicate this page to Fredericksburg, VA., and to take pictures of some of the city's most beautiful spots. However, the events in the world of this past October made us realize the great worth of our nation's military forces. The invasion on Grenada and the early morning attack on our Marines in Lebanon made us aware of our incredible power, as well as our vulnerable frailty. Thus, this page is dedicated to the U.S. armed forces, especially to the U.S. Marines who "gave their lives for our freedom" (quoted from President Ronald Reagan's speech of October 27, 1983).

William M. Anderson, Jr.

We met William M. Anderson, Jr., as Executive Vice-President; we grew to know him as acting President; we, now, dedicate the 1984 Battlefield to him as President.

President Anderson, since his 1976 arrival, has shown Mary Washington his dynamic ideas and his unflinching dedication. Always amiable and diplomatic, he has been instrumental in many policy changes which students supported. President Anderson obviously cares for the traditions of Mary Washington College; yet, he understands our changing needs.

For this reason, the 1984 Battlefield, "A Transition from Tradition" is dedicated to you, Dr. Anderson. Thanks for all you've done. Good luck on all you are going to do.

Volleyball

We had a winning season for the third year in a row. Our record was 21-17. We had a good offensive serving team and a good defensive returning team. Our wins were based on our talent and desire to win. Four returning starters, Annemarie Bischof, Kara Chaconas, Stephanie Pah, and Paige Wohlgemuth, joined a group of eight newcomers all of whom worked well in the starting lineup. Beth Brown, Jennie Kopcienski, and Anne Zemlenieuski were All Conference players in high school.

We are a hardworking, dedicated group of 17 people, less than half of us have previously cheered for MWC. Our main goal is to get students motivated to support our school with pride and enthusiasm. For the past two summers some of us have attended national collegiate cheerleading camps along with big universities. We feel that this summer we are ready for the competition held at these camps. The MWC Cheerleaders, along with their new sponsor, are very serious about accomplishing their goals. Many long hours, including weekends, have been spent practicing flashy routines, cheers, and daring mounts. But perhaps our hardest job is thinking of new ways to promote spirit on our campus. We are thankful for all of the support and encouragement we received this year.

The Cheerleader's theme is:

Tide do it with Spirit
Tide do it with Style
Hey, Hey, What do you say
EVERYBODY GO WILD!!

Cross Country Womens

We had the most ability we ever had this year. We had a group of returners (including 1982 national meet participants Marlene Moreno and Martha Forsyth) and a lot of girls who had potential and more than good talent. Of the eight returning runners, Moreno at the beginning of the season had not been beaten by an MWC runner. Kim O'Keefe showed tremendous improvement over last spring. Bessie Patterson lead an incoming group of Kathy Demarest, Lisa Petrilli, Pam Shillingsburg, and Barb Terino, all of whom began with better times than any previous incoming MWC runners. We hosted the first Tidewater meet at MWC.

Mens

We aimed for our third consecutive winning season with a very young team but fell short with a 7-10-3 season. Senior captain Dave Modrak became MWC's first four year cross country letterman and junior Mike Harper returned after a one year sabbatical. Six talented freshmen formed the nucleus of the team. Mike Good, Dave Modrak, and Don Zdanczewicz lead the team in the number one, two, and third positions respectively, but were chased closely by the remainder of the eight man team. Wade Muehlhof was ranked in the top two and three positions until injured. Although we had a losing season we proved ourself in the conferences and tourneys. The Tidewater Conference Championship is ours for the third straight year. We are ranked eighth in Regionals, second in VISA, and first in VISA East. Mike Good, frosh, broke the school record for five miles with 26:55.

Again, we had a good season. Eventhough we had a difficult schedule, we ended up with a 7-10-3 season. Returning to the team Bill Lohr, Don Eckenrode, Jeff Miller, and Chris Hamil led the team in scoring. Lohr being the leading scorer with 31 points. Defensively, fourth year goalkeeper, Chris Roberson, and frosh, John Agnew anchored a group which included returning starters Tom Fiorelli and Luis Reisco at back and freshman Scott Rebein at sweeper. Second year players, Chris Mazzatenta, Mark Hildrup, and Shawn Carson composed a skilled offensively minded midfield. The Most Shut-outs (4) and Most Goals Scored (5), were team records broken this year. We brought home second place in the MWC Tournament as well as the Frostberg Tournament. At the VISA Tournament, we took Runner-Up and we are proud to be the VISA East Division Champions! As for post season honors, Carson, Eckenrode, Hamil, and Lohr were named VISA All-Stars.

Riding

The tack and horses were shimmering when we approached the ring this fall. Much concentrated training and hours sitting atop an English saddle paid off. In the MWC Show, 1st. place was awarded to Leslie Ward and Kristi Woodward; Carol McElhane took a 2nd., and 3rd.s were awarded to Tamara Showalter and Amy Groth. At UVA, we slacked a little and brought home two 2nd places (Gayle Greenwood and Carol Miller) but we took five 3rd. places won by Heidi Ryan, Lori Wendt, Miller, and Woodward. Greenwood brought home a 1st. place in the RMWC Show, followed by Cornelia Szele with a 2nd. Laura Corrado, Jennifer Hammond, Pam Gatton, and Groth, all received 3rd. place ribbons. After these three shows, we had Lesley Ward, Lori Wendt, Kristi Woodward, and Amy Groth qualify for Regionals.

Field Hockey

This year, we were a team of speed and endurance. A bad start of 0-4 was discouraging, but with the help of players with good background and good stickwork, we progressed to a 4-7-1 season. A small but solid group of returners led the team — 3rd. year goalkeeper Allison Cornell, seniors Erin McGinty and Salley Jones (captain), juniors Mary Buckley (captain) and Jessie Jones. Newcomers Sandy Ervine, Karen Coyle, Amy Hastings, Ellen Henderson, Pam Heller, and goalie Peggy O'Neill brought skill and their potential to the team. Pam Heller, freshman, was leading scorer. This was Coach Beth Reichel's first year at MWC. She is a cum laude graduate of Slippery Rock State College and holds her masters from Northern Illinois University. After a disappointing 2-11 season in 1982, Coach Reichel brought us within one game of a .500 season.

Intramurals

We have a very active intramural group at MWC. Softball, football, soccer, basketball, and volleyball are offered. There is no restriction on who plays, men as well as women participate. Usually the teams are organized by dorm. Schedules are made up and games are held and officiated by students. The top teams compete for ranking and the winner becomes champion.

We were an indication of our preseason times and enjoyed another fine season. The men's team, led by captain Stan Smith, won their first meet ever in 1983. The Blue Tide women, aimed for a return to national meet representation. Led by captain and event record holder, Ann Cumming, the team's times in preseason workouts were close to national qualifiers. Both men and women had a very tough dual meet schedule. Stan Smith and diver Pinson Neal had strong chances at NCAA bids. Neal reached the Indiana finals as a high school senior. Like, Smith, breaststroker Lowell Gibson, another returner, set a new personal best. In addition to Cumming, seven lettermen from 1983's 9-4-1 team returned to the women's team. We are not a sprint team but we do well in dual meets based on overall strength.

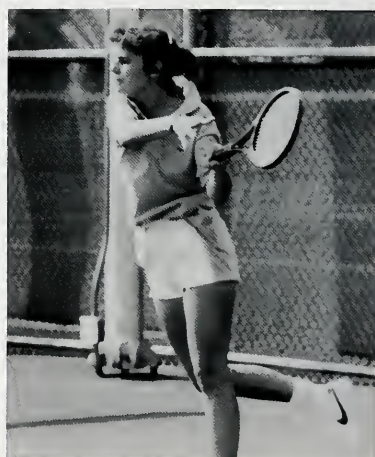

WOMEN'S TENNIS

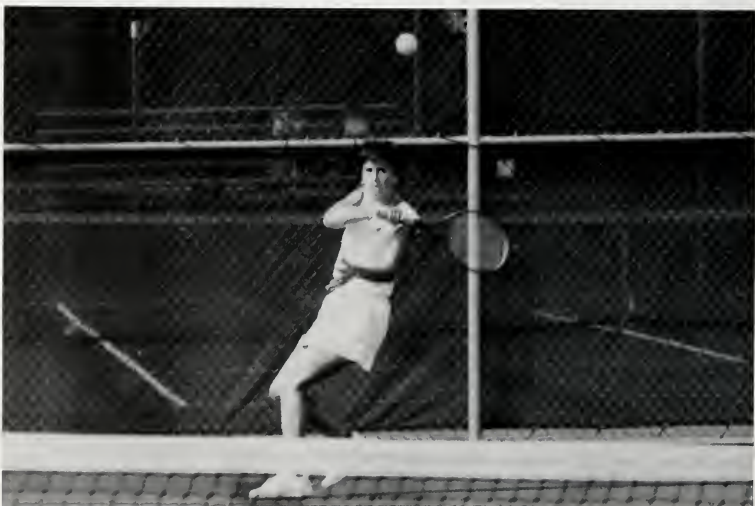

Despite a composition of eight freshmen, a junior, and three seniors, our Blue Tide Women's Tennis team had an experienced and talented group whose major goal was a fourth consecutive trip to national tournament competition. Four players, Julie Collins, Deeanne Wardman, Barbara Haberstroh, and Jaime Rund, returned for last year's 4th place (NCAA Division III) team including a national champion (Collins in Flight 5). Our record in the fall consisted of 2 loses and 12 wins.

With ten returning players from Mary Washington's 15-11 1983 team and another talented group of newcomers, we looked forward to a season at least as well as in previous years. We had six of our top ten scorers return which proved better outside shooting. We were quicker and had the potential to rebound as well. For the fourth consecutive season, senior center Frank Gilmore played a key role in the team's fortune. For his past three seasons, he has led the team in scoring and rebounding. Frank scored past the 1000 mark this season. Junior Tony Farris, sophomore Gilbert Fields and Ronald Kenney, freshman Dave Bergh, and senior Mark Mickle, returning to the team after a two year hiatus, joined Gilmore along the front line. At guard, Tim Jones, a starter at the point was joined by Gary Coles, 1983 J.V. Players Cliff Anckaitis and Barry McCormick, and newcomers Brian Doyle, a first team All Central Virginia player, an Anthony Reese, and All District and All Regional guard. For the second season, we fielded a Junior Varsity squad which played a twelve game schedule and was coached by former MWC players Tim Money '82 and Dave Morris '83.

Again we had a talented, experienced team. Trish Long, senior, has led the team in scoring and rebounding. Joined along the front line were returners Melanie Taylor and Ruth Bonner. In addition to the front line two of the team's top three guards returned: Joanne Ciccone and Sue Lehman. Two new corners strengthened the guard position. Jeanette Bergman and Janet Walker saw plenty of playing time. Bergman and Walker are both All District and All Region players in high school and were talented ballhandlers.

Chris Uthe, senior, the number one golfer has highlighted the greens for four years. He will be greatly missed. Ross Bertossi, Scott Bessette, Rick Crella, first year players enhanced the team along with spring transfer, Scott Koontz, sophomore from Methodist College.

Seven of eight scorers returned to the lacrosse squad along with High School All American, Pam Heller. Pre-season games including Mt. St. Mary's, the Virginia and Washington area clubs, a trip to Maryland and participation in 2 days of shortened games at the Virginia Lacrosse Invitational prepared the team for the regular season. The teams strength was based on a well rounded scoring attack. Heller and another talented freshman Trish Cassidy provided patent offensive threats along with returners Trish Long, who scored 18 goals last season, Dede McGuinness, Cathy Collier, and Mairi Buckley. We were a well balanced team.

Another talented incoming class made our 1984 men's tennis squad the strongest ever at MWC. David Ruben and Dan Wolfe, the 1983 team's number one and two players returned. Ruben is ranked seventh in the South Atlantic Region. Wolfe, a fourth year player brought back his determination and aggressive game. Joining the top two in the top six at the beginning of the season were Barry de Nicola, Kevin Shea, a transfer from Jacksonville University, Scott Talbot, and Kenneth Brady.

Campus Life

Smiling Freshman.

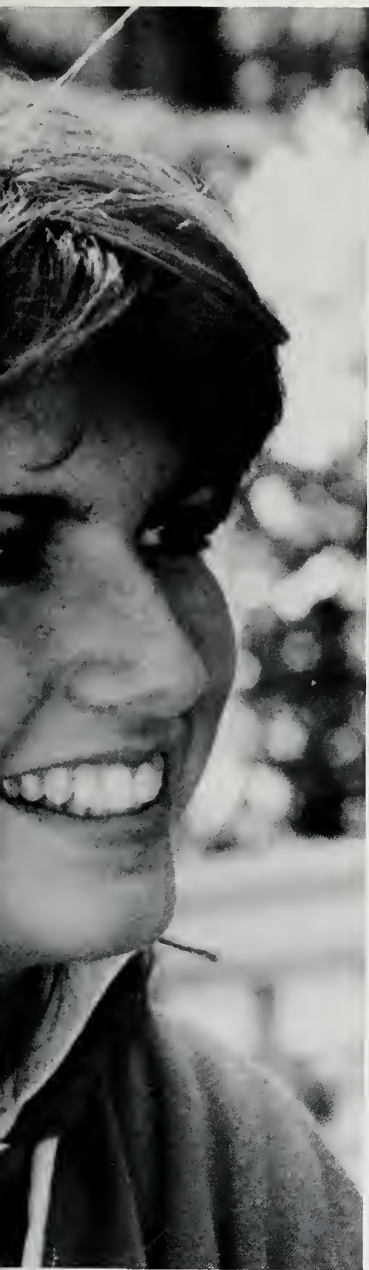

Dear George,

We certainly do miss you, but are glad to hear you are doing well now that you've transferred to . . . oh, what's that university you're at this year? Maybe you should have stuck around here a while longer, though, because we're all having a great time!

Did I tell you we have a new President of the College? Dr. Anderson was appointed last summer, and the Inauguration and Ball were incredible! We also have a new Associate Dean and a few new resident directors, so we have seen several changes on campus concerning dorm policies. We can have kegs in the rooms this year (you don't have to sneak them in the back door any longer, although I understand that some people still do.).

Remember all the problems with housing last Spring? To make a few more housing spaces, Mercer was renovated into a dorm. Of course, there were some discomforts at first (they finally got phones in October), but most residents seem to like it there. Chandler was also renovated and re-opened in the Fall; even though the floors are pink and the halls are skinny, it is a nice place and there is more classroom space.

You know, it may be better that you did transfer since you are such a preppy; the "new look" is here! We do still see Bif in his green pants with little whales, but most people are wearing mini skirts, black pumps and cut off sweatshirts.

I think I told you about the 24-hour visitation policy that we have now in Jef-erson and Marshall. I wish I had some of those letters that were published in the area newspaper; they were not very nice. So far, no major problems have arisen, so maybe the policy will be made permanent ...

The campus is still kind of empty on the week-ends, but there is a lot to do.

Welcome to KWO's "Glamorous-rama".

Here's to good friends...

Cox, Trudy, and Jennifer laugh about "Chicken Little".

Hamlet has a Ma-Wa-Co Happy Hour on Friday afternoons which I hear (by the sound of the Beach Music) is a good start to the week-end. The pub is still fun and crowded, but most of the freshmen can't drink beer now that the alcohol laws have changed the drinking age. Still, it is the place to go on Thursday night!

Although most clubs still sponsor keg parties on the week-end, they aren't as successful as they used to be.

I was sorry you couldn't make it up for Family Week-end, because it was really interesting. You would have liked the old cars, the picnic on Ball Circle and the take-off on the Johnny Carson show for talent night. At least you made it to Halloweens. There were some great costumes; the toy soldier, the bride and groom, and the Crest cavity kids — but, then again, you probably don't remember that much of the night . . . However, I am glad to say that you handled yourself well at Fall Formal; that really was

"Sumptin' Special" (or was it ...).

Seacobeck has even changed a little! Bob Birt and the other clickers are still there, friendly as ever (and Bob still wears signs for everyone's birthdays). We had the traditional Halloween weiny roast and hayride out on the lawn. But, there are some new things — we have these crazy cereal dispensers now (if all else fails, eat a bowl of cereal!), and there are flowers on all the tables at meals, and the dining rooms are always decorated for holidays!

Registration for classes was a couple of weeks ago. Now that I'm "declared" I get to go earlier, but those freshmen still have a mad rush for classes; all those people trying to get into writing workshop and computer courses — it gives me a headache just to think about it again!

Exams are next week and that means snack nights in the C-shop! On hot dog night I like to get over there early and get about two or three good dogs (but then I can't get to sleep all night ...). Hopefully, some good flicks will be on HBO during that week and everyone can sit around for hours, watching instead of studying.

We had several departmental speakers on campus this year. Adam Ulam was here in the Fall and the Ballroom was packed with people to hear his speech. A nephew of William Faulkner was also here and gave a Faulkner family history which was both interesting and entertaining.

Some of the best campus entertainment, though, has been our own music and drama productions. "Play it Again, Sam" was put on by the drama department in the Fall and was excellent. The music department had its annual concerts, which also were great productions.

Don't you love it?

I really did try to come see you during Christmas break. But, as usual, I was working in D.C., and you have such odd hours at the restaurant. I was so glad you could make it up for the Valentine's Dance so we could at least share some wine and a couple of slow dances with the Gents!

For a while at the beginning of the semester things were wild for the Juniors! Everyone was hunting down a Ring Dance date. I guess they all found them by the day Ring Dance tickets went on sale, because people started lining up at 7:30 a.m.! Too bad for those Juniors who got soaked during Ring Week; I thought last year was the worst with bird seed in beds, honey in shampoo bottles and cut-up "magazine pictures" in books and underwear drawers. However, all those who suffered last year came back for revenge this year, and it was a real fiasco.

were definitely for Seniors, though. Everyone certainly had his (her!) share of the fun on 100th Night (as was obvious by the noticeable lack of Seniors in classes the next day). And, do you remember the old "Slipper" we used to go to? Well, apparently it has really been fixed up, so the Sophomores (from what I heard) bussed the Seniors down there for their surprise 84th Night. I can hardly wait for our turn!

Some of the keg parties were run a little differently 2nd semester. Instead of paying an admission to cover the band and the beer, we could buy beer tickets once we got in. It was a good idea because it kept people from wasting beer, and the Freshmen who were underage didn't pay for beer they couldn't drink. Like all new systems, though, it needs practice to help it work out.

I know this letter has been kind of jumbled, but it has been so long between letters and visits to you that I decided to just put it all in one big letter. We all miss you, especially me! Right now I am standing out in front of Trinkle, listening to "Pomp and Circumstance" playing from the top of G.W. Hall, and the Seniors are marching to Ball Circle to receive their diplomas. They all look so happy, and so nervous!

I can't believe it is the end of the year and Graduation Day already. We've had some big changes around here this year: the new visitation policies, new state laws which affected us, and our new Administration. Yet, the old traditions were just as exhilarating: all the keggers, the big dances, and the Senior parties. I just wish you'd been here to share it all with us. Maybe this letter lets you experience some of our "Transition from Tradition"!

Closing!

Within the covers of this year's Baulefield we have tried to record Mary Washington College as it is right now, today. We are in many ways a diverse group: some of us preppie, some new wave; some young and striving for a Bachelor's degree, some older and working on a BLS (or even MBA). Yet, all of us share in the unique experience of this College, living in the shadow of its traditions while we ourselves bring about changes for the future.

In December, the year-long celebration of Mary Washington College's 75th Anniversary drew to a close. During that time we were reminded of a different MWC: one foreign to us, but one whose strongest ideals still touch us.

It is almost inconceivable to think that, once, this college was "all girls." Freshmen wore beanies so that upperclassmen could pick them out immediately; one had to wear an evening dress to dinner; men were not allowed on campus after dark; and, there was no visitation policy (except on Sunday afternoon, and then only Dad could go in and visit, provided the door remained open.)

Yet, how ever strange all that sounds, it was in the old days that many traditions were started. Although it is only once a year, we do still have Devils and Goats. It was then that the idea of a Ring Ceremony was started. And our Honor System is much the same as the original one was.

While we hold on to some of the traditions, we have changed much in the past few years. Obviously we have men on our campus, as well as a visitation policy so we can see them (even after dark, and for 24-hours in some dorms!). Although we don't dress up for dinner, we do come up with some wild outfits for keg parties. And, we have modified the old Ring Ceremony—even extended it to cover an entire week, one that every entering freshman waits for and then cherishes as a Junior.

As this book goes to press, many more changes are anticipated. Maybe next year we will have a Greek system on campus; we will have a new "Roost" added to our social scene; maybe the ratio of men to women will begin to even itself out . . . finally!

But, no matter what changes occur next year — or in the years after that — we can feel the satisfaction in knowing that we have made a difference to this college; we have, in just one year, started new traditions. We worked with a new Administration and instituted a 24-hour visitation policy; our changes will last at this college forever. For this reason we have called this Battlefield "Transition from Tradition." We thank those of you who have made it happen, and we welcome the rest of you to celebrate your days at MWC. Be thankful for our traditions, but always be willing to accept the challenge of a good "new tradition."

Battlefield '84, the 71st edition of the yearbook of Mary Washington College, was produced by the Battlefield Staff, a non-profit Student Association — recognized organization at MWC. Opinions expressed are those of the staff and are not necessarily those of the students, faculty, staff or Administration of the College. The office of the Battlefield is located on the top floor of Ann Carter Lee Hall. The phone number is (703) 899-4370. All correspondence should be sent to The Battlefield, Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg, Virginia, 22401. The yearbook was published by Hunter Publishing Company in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Each book is 9 inches by 12 inches containing 200 pages. Each page is 80 lbs. matte, except in the four-color signature, where it is 80 lbs.

embossed. Type is American Typewriter Light and Medium with black ink.

The cover was designed by Jim Ellis. The base material is Lexotone in gray-41090. Applied colors are Blue-642C and white.

All candid photography was taken by the Battlefield staff. Terry Bonner of Sports Information contributed to the sports pictures. The Public Relations Office of MWC contributed to the faculty pictures. All portrait photography was taken by Yearbook Associates of Millers Falls, MA.

Press run was 400. Prices for the book were progressive, ranging from $15.00 to $20.00

No portions of this book may be reproduced without the written consent of the Editor.

Battlefield '84 represents a transition in me. Until last summer, I saw a yearbook as just one of those books that gathered dust on the top of a bookshelf. Every few years we'd take it down, dust it off, and remember. Then, back up it would go. Now I realize that a yearbook is more than this.

Battlefield '84 represents months of work, sleepless hours, and finally, feelings of relief. It is a challenge of new ideas — a representation of me and of you. Don't let it gather dust — let it remind you of MWC's

Transition from Tradition.
